Howdy Circle Wranglers, the Circulator is back for another go round. It has been a super busy month of August, but now summer is winding down and September is drawing near.

What have we got to talk about this month? Well, the steam show just wrapped up and I had to work so I hope the rest of you had fun. Before that, it was the Lisbon heritage Days Fun Fly. That was a good time. Compared to the usual number of crashes we normally experience in the Lisbon vortex, we got by pretty easy this year. All of this excitement happened right on the heels of Kidventure, for those of us who attended. Hmmm... what did all of these events have in common? Besides Circle Masters involvement and model airplanes, they were a freaking blood bath! We had a guy injured at all of these venues. Now let me preach on this. What's going on here? I hope it's just a string of unfortunate incidents and not a symptom of a problem cropping up. We as a club need to be vigilant, I don't really know what weirdness led to the plane versus face deal, but it sounds like all of these calamities could be avoided. The other two were straight up part or parts of a dude stuck into a spinning prop. We as a club are better than this. Traditionally, we have operated with a minimum of accidents over the course of a flying season. I'm not singling these guys out either. That would be hurtful and there's no need to add insult to injury, no matter how much fun that would be. (and I got a million of em") The point is, this could happen to any one of us, glow or electric, the prop always wins. And don't forget, this crap hurts too! Ask victim number one if that little Norvel has any mercy. See how victim number two enjoyed losing a finger nail and then check out number three's stitches. Do not become complacent, I can't stand pain, it hurts me. You shouldn't be real crazy about it either, unless, ah never mind that's outside the scope of this discussion. Anyway, all kidding aside we need to review our practices and never neglect to respect a spinning prop.

Now that we are all feeling light hearted, let's get on to the rest of the newsletter. This month, pictures of the last few outings will be the focus, and not just a bunch of me blowing off steam. John S. sent some photos from Kidventure and I took a bunch at Lisbon. I hope somebody had a camera at the Antique Power Show. Did you use it there? Send it in the results for next month.

We have been experiencing a bunch of visitors at our various functions of late. Some are families. Be a good club ambassador and welcome these folks in. I believe one, Randy X has already joined AMA and is on his way through the elaborate Circle Masters initiation ritual. You know, the one where the rest of us beg them to join and then they take pity on us and sign up..

Happy Hobby is overstocked with glow fuel. I have included a list of what they have available and the prices. See if they have something you can use. I wouldn't normally run a full page ad for anyone except for events but I thought this info might be useful for club members so it's in here.

I will not be able to attend the meeting and I'm pretty certain Big Mel won't be there either. Both of us have bosses who are not down for the struggle and make us toil, unfairly, for the man on many weekends. You however should definitely be there. Have fun and most of all BE SAFE!

Peace out,

Big How

CIRCLE MASTERS FLYING CLUB
Meeting Minutes for AUGUST 2016

The August meeting of the Circle Masters Flying Club was held at the Dan Tetzlaff Memorial Flying Field on Saturday August 6th. This Saturday was another fine day for flying prior to the meeting as well as after.

The meeting was brought to order by President Greg @ 1:10 PM. All members (12) had received the July newsletter and had reviewed and approved the minutes from that months meeting. There were four (4) guests who attended the meeting.

The treasurer's report was presented by club Treasurer Ralph. He explained that there were no transactions the previous month so the bank balance remained the same as last month. Ralph added that due to his recent health issues he is turning over the duties of club Treasurer to current Secretary Wayne. He will become Secretary/Treasurer until the next club election.

REPORTS & ANNOUCEMENTS: Don reported that there were 1470 flights launched at Kid Venture this year. In addition Don was presented with a plaque from the AMA thanking the club with twenty years of promoting control line flying at EAA. Greg reported on the results of the Pebble Creek Fun Fly. Besides being super HOT the field was fully prepared for us with grass cut, barriers and the circle was marked well. We were well received by the R/C guys and the food was great.

OLD BUSINESS: There was no old business.

NEW BUSINESS: Jason discussed the changes for the next Steam Tractor Show. A snow fence barrier will be added and wrist bands will be given to us. There will be a pancake breakfast on Sunday as well as a car show. Pete encouraged members to fly or help at the Tree Town contest on Sep. 4th.

WEB BUSINESS: None.

All business having been discussed, Greg asked for a motion to adjourn. It was moved and seconded to adjourn the meeting at 1:50 PM.

SHOW AND TELL: The new Bat Plane and its first flight.

A short, one paragraph article you submitted could go here

John S. Sent in these pictures of the award presentation where the AMA recognized all of the volunteers who have made twenty years of KidVenture happen in Oshkosh. Along with your club VP Melissa, is Geri MacArthur, holding the other airplane. My memory fails me on the name of the AMA representative.
